ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD BOY WAS FOUND CONDUCTING LIQUOR BUSINESS ON LARGE SCALE

By Associated Press.
Center, Texas, July 11.—The spectacle of a bright-eyed, intelligent boy of 11 years old, doing a thriving business as a bootlegger, was presented here when Sheriff Harry Burns, investigating the source of an unusual number of drunks and near drunks on the streets, found the lad selling "choch" beer to all comers for 25c per bottle.

The news of the new bootlegger had found its way evidently to the ears of all the "fine drinkin' men" of the community, and many automobiles were traveling the road leading to the source of supply, where the little fellow was handing out the beverage and raking in the quarters.

Questioned by Sheriff Burns, the boy said that his older brother had been gathered in by the prohibition officers and that he had been instructed to "carry on" until his return. The sheriff confiscated all the beer to be found and destroyed it, but did not place the little boy under arrest, exacting a promise that he would go to Sunday school every Sunday and never again sell, touch, or handle anything in the shape of illicit liquor.

FORMER JEOPARDY PLEA HELD GOOD IN LEGISLATOR'S CASE

CASE INVOLVING ALLEGED BRIBERY AGAINST H. H.
MOORE IS DISMISSED

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, July 11.—Charges of accepting a $1,000 bribe to influence legislation against H. H. Moore, expelled former member of the legislature, were dismissed in criminal district court today on motion of District Attorney J. D. Moore, who held that the defendant's plea of "former jeopardy" was "good."

Opposing attorneys immediately launched a fight over whether F. A. Dale, Bonham lawyer, expelled and indicted with Moore, should go to trial in absence of minor witnesses. The state's attorney acquiesced in the defense plea and Judge J. R. Hamilton entered the dismissal order after a lengthy argument.

CLAIM GREAGER CONSIDERED FOR MEXICO CITY JOB

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, July 11.—Reports in political circles here today were that R. S. Greager, Brownsville, Republican national committeeman from Texas, is being considered for appointment as Ambassador to Mexico by President Coolidge to succeed James R. Sheffield, resigned.

During Greager's visit to Washington recently, he was favorably discussed for the post, it was said here.

ment by Defense Counsel Love, who emphasized that Moore had been called to trial and witnesses examined in May. He declared the liberty of his client would be endangered twice in violation of the constitution.

Justifies First Continuance.
District Attorney Moore spoke at length in efforts to justify the first continuance of the case, declaring that sudden illness of W. W. Chamberlain, chief state witness, left the state only one recourse, regardless of whatever advantage the defendant might have gained.

"I realized then that a grave obstacle would be reared in the state's case," he said, "but since the law has put the defendant in this position, I move that his plea of former jeopardy be sustained."

Dale's case was called, but defense lawyers declared they would not accept transcribed testimony of Miss Louise Snow, chief clerk of the House of Representatives or of four witnesses examined before Moore's case was continued.

Miss Snow is in California. Her testimony had to do with House records. State's attorneys went into conference.

SUSPECT ARRESTED IN CASE OF MURDER BROOKLYN WOMEN

By Associated Press.
New York, July 11.—While police today were trying to unravel the mystery of the ax murder of two women, the decomposed head of a woman was found in Brooklyn, which police thought might possibly be the head of Evelyn Martino, aged 30, friend of the women who disappeared June 20.

The young woman, the police were told, left her home with Mrs. Alfred Bennett, to visit at the rooming house of Miss Sarah Brownell, and has not been seen since.

Mrs. Bennett, the mother of four children, who sold the lease on the rooming house to the elderly Miss Brownell, was murdered and dismembered. The police believe she was killed when she encountered the unknown man attempting to dispose of parts of the older woman's body.

By Associated Press.
New York, July 11.—A trail that started Saturday with the finding in Battery Park, Manhattan, of dismembered parts of a woman's legs had led today to a double murder mystery and the arrest of a suspect.

Hit by bit, parts of the torso of the slain woman came to light, the trail finally leading to a Brooklyn house where the dismembered body of another woman was found. The victims were Miss Sarah Elizabeth Brownell, 60, a seamstress, and Mrs. Alfred Bennett, 48, wife of an ice man and mother of four children.

Police were holding on a homicide charge Ludwig Lee, 38, janitor of the Brooklyn house where Mrs. Brownell lived. He protested his innocence after twelve hours of questioning. The police theory was that Miss Brownell was slain for robbery and Mrs. Bennett killed when she came to surprise the murderer at work.

While police were working on the murder of the two women, another mystery cropped up in a dark cellar in the lower East side, where a plumber, sent to repair a water leak in a tenement in Willett street, came upon two bundles containing the dismembered portions of a man's body. Police believe the victim had been dead several months. Identification was not established.

Police were starting a systematic search of all sewer inlets when early yesterday a boy walking in the yard of St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church, noticed a bundle wrapped in a piece of blanket.

Parts of Body in Churchyard.
A policeman opened it and found a portion of the lower part of a woman's torso. Three hours later the manager of a motion picture theatre in Brooklyn told police of finding a package under a fire escape. It contained a woman's left shoulder and arm, the ring finger severed.

Meanwhile, police had received a report from Alfred Bennett that his wife was missing. The Bennett's occupied a house on Lincoln Place, directly in the rear of 28 Prospect Place, which the Bennetts sold to Miss Brownell on May 14.

A son, John, 19, recalled that the last he saw his mother was on Saturday when she entered the cellar of the Prospect Place house to investigate a water leak of which Miss Brownell had complained. Police then went to the other house.

ALABAMA EXPECTED ENACT ANTI-MASK LAW AS RESULT RECENT MASKED FLOGGINGS

By Associated Press.
Birmingham, Ala., July 11.—Coincident with the announcement from Montgomery last night that a bill would be introduced in the state legislature Tuesday to ban wearing a mask in the state of Alabama for other than legitimate amusement purposes the Birmingham Age-Herald revealed another case of flogging by masked and robed men, the third in Alabama within two weeks. It was at the floggings that the proposed bill was aimed.

The Age-Herald today quoted Eton Murchison, 17, of Bessemer, Ala., as saying that on the night of June 26 he was forcibly taken from an automobile in which he and another youth were riding with two "strange" girls, and was severely whipped by five men who wore hoods and masks.

The girls, said Murchison, were taken home by the masked men, and Murchison expressed the belief that they had been maneuvered into his company so that there might be "some excuse" for whipping him. He knew of no other reason, and stated that Ernest Smitherman, 18, his companion, was not molested. Murchison did not attempt to identify the men.

State officers have arrived in Florence, Colbert county, to investigate the whipping last week of Mrs. Bertha A. Slay, 28, by eight men, likewise masked and also wearing robes. Mrs. Slay said the men entered her home, tied her husband and sister to their beds and took her into the back yard where an effort was made to force her "to confess to some scandal."

Refusing, she was repeatedly lashed with "something that felt like the fan belt of an automobile." Here too, the question of identification was uncertain. Mrs. Slay said she did not at first report the flogging because of threats as to what would result for her if she did.

At Oneonta, in a special session of Blount county Circuit Court, a grand jury was to be drawn to investigate the flogging last week of Jeff Galloway, 19-year-old orphan of Oneonta. Men wearing masks and robes also figured in this flogging, which was ordered investigated by Governor Bibb Graves when the facts first became known.

ALL FOR TEXAS

E. D. McCarver is always an ardent booster for the home town. Regardless of his whereabouts he does not hesitate to rise up in meeting and tell the folks the many advantages of living in Corsicana. Mr. McCarver was a passenger on the All-Texas Special which has just successfully completed a tour of the major cities of the East and North. It is needless to chronicle the information that this progressive citizen told 'em about Corsicana when the opportunity arose.

Mr. McCarver is enthusiastic about the trip and tells many interesting happenings that so far have not appeared in public prints. It is pointed out by this gentleman that he took it upon himself to visit in the homes of several multi-millionaires while away. He said his reason for this was to find out the cause for these men having so much money—if they had any more sense than Texas people. After the visits Mr. McCarver stated he arrived at the opinion the rich men did not show as good judgment as the Texas people for if they did they would sell out and come to Texas.

Mr. McCarver is responsible for another yarn in favor of Texas. Just before the train arrived on Texas soil the passengers in the Pullman he occupied on the trip made up a nice sum of money for the faithful negro porter which was presented in an appropriate way. The amount of the money took the breath from the polite black and in an effort to express his appreciation said: "You g'emens is sho fine. I'd rather be a black nigger down in Texas than to be a colored ge'man in Chicago."

These two stories certainly express the feelings of most Texans towards their state. We especially the native born, cannot for the life of us see why anyone would want to live in any other part of the entire globe, for like the negro porter, we would rather be the lowliest of the low and live in the great Lone Star State than sit upon a throne elsewhere.

KNOW TEXAS

Texas now has 570,820 telephones, according to the latest figures.
Texas has one of the greatest canyons in the United States. It is the Saint Helena Canyon, also called the Grand Canyon of the Rio Grande, located near the southern tip of the Big Bend in Brewster county. Here the Rio Grande cuts through the mountains forming a gorge 1,800 feet deep. Its walls are almost vertical and it is very narrow. The exit of the river from the cleft in the face of the steep mountain side is one of the most marvelous sights in the natural scenery of the United States. There is much scenery in this part of the state that makes an automobile trip through the Big Bend country more than worth while. Sometime this section of Texas will be exploited and when it is developed it will be one of the most popular resorts in the world.
The public road system of Texas is about 180,000 miles long and would reach around the earth more than seven times. The total mileage of improved highways is about 20,000 miles. However, it will not be many years until every part of the state will be connected with a system of hard surfaced, all weather highways.

FOR DOMESTIC HAPPINESS

Judge Joseph Burke of the Chicago domestic relations court puts trust in the adage, "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." Offering advice to women on how to keep out of his court, he says, "don't underestimate the influence of good food on a man's disposition." It is good advice, but it is more difficult to follow than Judge Burke seems to know. Like much good advice, it lacks definiteness, or definition.
What is good food? Has Judge Burke never heard that "one man's meat is another man's poison"? It is well enough to "feed the brute," but on what? There may be general agreement among the authorities on what constitutes good food. The average man is convinced "the proof of the pudding is in the eating." He may dislike pudding. Anything he doesn't like he is certain is not good for him nor even good food. The wife who attempts to cultivate her husband's disposition will fail unless she tickles his palate, though she poison him in doing so. There conscience may assert itself. Furthermore, catering to his peculiar appetite and disposition she may ruin her own digestion and disposition. The result might be no happier, in so far as keeping out of the domestic relations court than if she had fed him scientific, but unsatisfactory.
Good food, as man defines it, is stuff he likes to eat. It is by no means his sole want. Nor is it all that is needful to the making of a happy home life. The wife who puts too much faith in Judge Burke's chief rule for domestic bliss will not certainly keep out of his court.

THE CROWDED SKY.

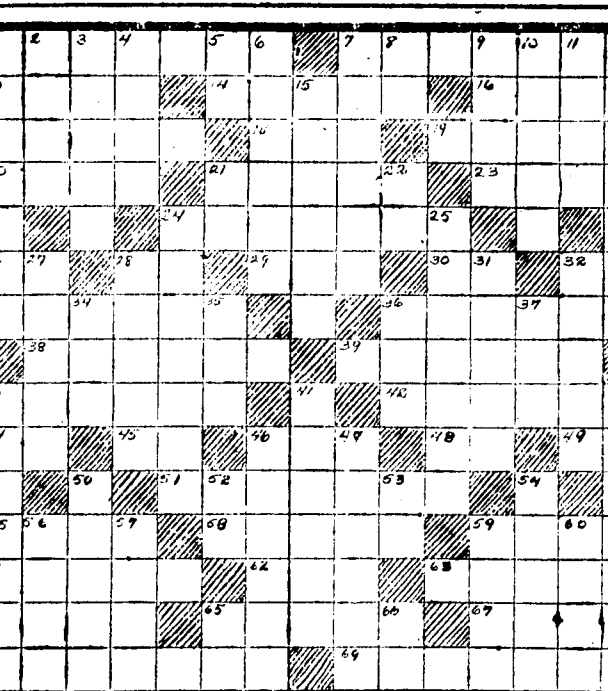

Air contests and enterprises are multiplied. The third national air tour contributes a 4,000 mile flight to twenty-four cities, demonstrating the reliability and load carrying capacities of airplanes. The Dallas to Hong Kong, Seattle to Tokyo and San Francisco to Honolulu money prizes apparently will produce fifty flights or more. Bellanca monoplanes of twelve passenger capacity are to fly between New York, Chicago and Miami. Lindbergh darts back and forth in the heavens upon missions having to do with the advancement of commercial aviation. Pilot Charles Pedley of Corsicana completes a 5,000 mile air journey carrying a passenger, announcing the arrival of the All Texas Special in many of the major cities of the East and North. Captain Courtney, a great British pilot, is about to make a cargo flight from Southampton to New York and return. Commander Byrd gives the conquest of the air still greater momentum.
We are further on our way. What a story is in the writing here! We hear a rush of wings and see Lindbergh, gilded and golden in brightest light, the eagle of a crowded sky. But birds of lesser place and not so shining white have their functions and, as they rise and bear burdens, share in the romance. Are they not the magic carpets or the great rocs which serve aerial transport as well in Arabian fable and for a thousand years and more have stirred the imaginations of mankind?

A CUP OF COFFEE

A bad cup of coffee has started many a man off on a poor day, but one also launched a young Middle Westerner on a career which had earned him many millions before he died the other day in Chicago.
As did many another young couple in their time, John R. Thompson and his bride spent their honeymoon at the World's Fair. One morning at a restaurant there Thompson was served with a bad cup of coffee. He and the proprietor got into an argument over the merits of the beverage, the upshot of which was the customer bought the place and found himself embarked on an enterprising which eventually grew into a great chain of cafes in many cities.
When Thompson took over a whole establishment to get a good cup of coffee he also helped to set up a coffee standard which is maintained now even in many of our very cheapest eating places. Ford Madox Ford, writing lately in Harper's, while criticizing the American manner of making tea, also marveled at the almost universal excellence of our coffee. It has become almost an axiom to say that a good cup of coffee will carry an indifferent meal to success. Thompson, like many another conspicuous success in the business world, happened on one of the simplest of human wants and set out to supply it.

Corsicana is a city with a future. Its growth and prosperity is assured. The combination of a progressive citizenship and natural resources is unbeatable.

Fire of undetermined origin swept the interior of the home of L. C. Coulson, 725 West Second avenue, about 4:30 Friday morning, doing damage estimated at $7,500. The Coulsons were awakened by neighbors who had turned in the alarm, and made their escape from the sleeping porch safely.
The fire originated in the front room of the house and within a few minutes swept through the entire house. All of the doors and windows were open and draperies on the windows and French doors aided in the spread of the flames.
Flames were extinguished before the house was destroyed but considerable damage was done by water and chemicals. The house was insured for $7,600 and the furnishings for $5,000.

LOREE OPPONENT IN MERGER PLAN IS LOSER IN COURT

By Associated Press.
St. Louis, July 8.—A petition to invalidate a recent election of directors of the St. Louis, Southwestern railway, was denied today by Circuit Judge Hall.
Walter E. Meyer, of New York, an opponent of the proposed Loree-Southwestern railroad merger, including the Cotton Belt, Katy and Kansas City Southern, claimed re-election to the board, saying he had received more votes than F. V. Green, whose election was recognized.
As a State law requires the members to be residents of Missouri, Meyer was held ineligible.

RESIGNATION LONG EXPECTED, HANDED PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

By Associated Press.
Ralph City, S. D., July 8.—James R. Sheffield today gave his resignation as Ambassador to Mexico to President Coolidge.
The resignation is to take effect at the will of the President who has not indicated his intentions. Mr. Sheffield, however, has indefinite plans for returning to his post and upon leaving here expects to go to Europe for six weeks.
The retirement of the Ambassador comes at a critical time in the relations between this country and Mexico. The Southern republic has recently indicated in "extreme" form the application of its oil law. It is understood here and there is some concern over this development.
Giving no reason for his retirement, Mr. Sheffield likewise declined to comment on Mexican relations. It was said at the executive office here, however, that his resignation had been agreed upon a year ago when the Ambassador returned to his post against his wishes but upon the request of the President.

Looking For Man To Fill Position

By Associated Press.
Washington, July 8.—Inquiries at the State Department today as to the Washington government's plans as to the appointment of a new ambassador to Mexico were met only with the suggestion that the administration was looking around to find an exceptionally well qualified man but there appeared to be no haste.
The possibility that the post vacated by James R. Sheffield might not be filled by an immediate recess appointment was indicated in the department's attitude. Speculation whether the embassy would be left vacant for a time in order to impress others upon Mexico the serious view taken in Washington of the controversy over American rights as effected by the Mexican oil and land legislation recalled frequent reports in the past few months that Mr. Sheffield was to be withdrawn, all of which met prompt denial.
Was Not Recalled.
The Ambassador did state that he had not been recalled from Mexico because of the recent developments there in relation to the oil laws which it was clear he was concerned over. He said he came back to attend the Yale commencement last month.
However, because of his indefinite plans for the future and indications that the Mexican post cause of the lack of any announcement by the President, there were might go unfilled for a while. It seemed apparent that Mr. Coolidge would accept the resignation of Mr. Sheffield in view of the agreement made with him a year ago.
Mr. Sheffield said he needed a rest. Everett Sanders, secretary to the President, explained that last year when the Ambassador saw the President, he requested to retire because of his health and the President asked him to remain until this spring.
There were indications later at the executive offices that Mr. Coolidge would make public a letter to the Ambassador in which he would set forth his views on the Mexican situation.

AUTO MANUFACTURER ORDERS ATTACKS ON JEWISH RACE STOPPED

By Associated Press.

New York, July 8.—Through Arthur Brisbane, a statement was made public today quoting Henry Ford as saying he had ordered his Dearborn Independent to discontinue permanently all articles hostile to the Jewish people. The statement expressed "great regret" over any injury the articles may have caused.

Mr. Brisbane's article, which was copyrighted by the New York American, and sent by that paper to other newspapers is based on a signed statement, says Mr. Brisbane, the original of which is in possession of Louis Marshall, lawyer, Mr. Marshall, at Saratoga Lake, said the original was in his office safe and a photo-static reproduction would be available to anyone desiring it.

The announcement was made at Mr. Ford's request, said Mr. Brisbane, who quotes Mr. Ford as saying: "This statement is made on my own initiative and wholly in the interest of right and justice and in accordance with what I regard as my solemn duty as a man and as a citizen."

Some of the articles already reprinted in pamphlet form under the title of "The International Jew" will be withdrawn from circulation, says Mr. Brisbane, who quotes Mr. Ford as saying that the Dearborn Independent in the future will be conducted under such auspices that articles reflecting upon the Jews will never again appear in its columns.

William J. Cameron, editor of the Dearborn Independent, and a witness in the $100,000 libel suit brought by Aaron Sapiro, Chicago attorney, against the motor manufacturer, at Detroit, expressed great surprise at the statement.

"It is all news to me," Mr. Cameron said, "and I cannot believe it is true." He added he did not believe the statement was a preliminary movement toward settlement of Sapiro's suit, based on articles appearing in the Dearborn Independent.

Mr. Brisbane asserts that on behalf of William Randolph Hearst, publisher of the American, he offered Mr. Ford $1,000,000 for the Dearborn Independent.

Refuses to Sell Magazine. "No, I won't sell it," he quotes Mr. Ford as replying, "but I'm going to make it a house organ and I am going to stop printing everything that could possibly cause complaint or hurt the feelings of anyone."

Mr. Ford's statement said in part: "In the multitude of my activities it has been impossible for me to devote personal attention to their management or to keep informed as to their content. It has therefore inevitably followed that the articles, facts and policies of these publications had to be delegated to men whom I place in charge of them and upon whom I relied implicitly."

"To my great regret I have learned that Jews generally, and particularly those of this country, not only resent these publications as promoting anti-Semitism, but regard me as their enemy. Trusted friends with whom I have conferred recently have assured me in all sincerity that in their opinion the character of the charges and insinuations made against the Jews, both individually and collectively, contained in many of the articles which have been circulated, periodically in the Dearborn Independent and have been reprinted in the pamphlets mentioned, justifies the righteous indignation entertained by Jews everywhere toward me because of the mental anguish occasioned by the unprovoked reflections made upon them."

Personal Attention Given. "This has led me to direct my personal attention to this subject, in order to ascertain the exact nature of these articles. As a result of this survey I confess that I am deeply mortified that this journal, which is intended to be constructive and not destructive, has made the medium for resurrecting old and long forgotten slanders, for giving currency to the so-called protocols of the wise men of Zion, which have been demonstrated, as I learn, to be gross forgeries, and for contending that the Jews have been engaged in a conspiracy to control the capital and the industries of the world, besides laying at their door many offenses against decency, public order and good morals."

Those who have been witnesses that it is not my nature to inflict upon and to occasion pain to anybody, and that it has been my effort to free myself from prejudice. Because of that I frankly confess that I have been greatly shocked as a result of my study and examination of the files of the Dearborn Independent and the pamphlets entitled "The International Jew."

It seems to me to be my duty as an honorable man to make amends for the wrong done to the Jews as fellow men and brothers, by asking their forgiveness for the harm I have unintentionally committed, by retracting so far as lies within my power the offensive charges laid at their door by these publications, and by giving them the unqualified assurance that henceforth they may look to me for friendship and good will."

Sapiro in Canada. No Settlement Known.

By Associated Press. Chicago, July 8.—Aaron Sapiro, whose objection to anti-Jewish material published in the Dearborn Independent took the form of a million dollar libel suit against Henry Ford and others, is now in Saskatchewan, Canada. His law partner, Robert S. Marx, said he had heard nothing of a rumored settlement out of court of the libel action.

Julius Rosewald, Chicago philanthropist, made the following comment on published statements that attacks against the Jews by the Dearborn Independent would cease: "Mr. Ford's statement is very greatly belated. This letter would have been very much better to his credit had it been written five years ago."

"It seems almost impossible to believe he has not been deluged with evidence on the very facts which he now seems to realize are true."

"But it is never too late to make amends, and I congratulate Mr. Ford that he has at last seen the light. He will find that the spirit of forgiveness is not only a Christian virtue, but is equally a Jewish virtue."

Sapiro Says Suit May Be Settled. By Associated Press. Saskatoon, Sask., July 8.—Deep satisfaction at the reported withdrawal of attacks made on the Jews through Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent, was expressed here today by Aaron Sapiro of Chicago, who stated that negotiations for the settlement of the $1,000,000 libel suit against Ford were in progress.

Sapiro Suit Seems Involved in Matter. By Associated Press. Detroit, Mich., July 8.—Negotiations looking toward the publication of Henry Ford's statement that all articles in his Dearborn Independent hostile to the Jewish people have been ordered discontinued, have been going on for some time, William Henry Gallagher, chief counsel for Aaron Sapiro in the latter's libel action against Mr. Ford, said today.

Mr. Gallagher added that he "confidently expects" that the libel suit will be "settled out of court."

Walter F. Lynch of Chicago, law associate of Mr. Sapiro, has been in Detroit for two weeks in connection with the matter of the statement credited to Mr. Ford, Gallagher said.

FEW FISH DIE OF OLD AGE ACCORDING STATE DEPARTMENT

Special to the Sun.

Austin, Texas, July 6.—The following statement was issued this week by J. C. Burr of the State Game, Fish and Oyster Department of Texas at Austin, concerning fish and fish hatcheries in Texas:

How long a fish will live in Texas streams depends mainly on the skill of fishermen. Few fish die of old age; they are mostly caught young. The tragedy is that only when they are a victim of hasty strikes at a supper table, or another, and are killed, do we realize that they are old and from the standpoint of the fish.

But it's great sport to take them, and when an angler's reputation is at stake, there is a temptation to carry home 50 or 100, even if they are short, and before they have reached the age of reproduction.

Prior to a year ago the state had only one hatchery, located at Dallas, which sent out annually from 100,000 to 250,000 young fish seed, but practically all were sent to lakes and private ponds. Last year, with two hatcheries added, a few fish were sent to streams and creeks. This year the applications for fish include a greater number of streams.

That so few applications are made for fish to be placed in streams is due to the belief that they would soon be caught out by an irresponsible public. That is perhaps the greatest difficulty to a successful stocking of the fishing streams, which were once the angler's delight.

The Commission, with four hatcheries now in operation, hopes to send out from one half to a million fish annually. They must, of course, be allowed to reach maturity and reproduce, which will require at least a year. Observation of the fishing laws is imperative, and proper co-operation by the public is essential to the success of this important enterprise of the state.

Eleven inches for bass and seven inches for white perch and crappie are the lawful lengths.

Distribution of bass from the Tyler hatchery began this week, with Commissioner Will J. Tucker on the ground in close touch with the work.

Reform of Jury System Advocated by Texas Bar Head. Special to the Sun.

Houston, Texas, July 7.—Reform of the jury system was urged here today in an address by T. W. (White) Davidson, former lieutenant governor and president of the Texas Bar Association, before the annual meeting of the bar association.

Davidson would give the defendant in a criminal case the right to twelve jury men, thus lessening court costs and relieving the congestion of the criminal courts.

Maryland and Connecticut are the only two states which follow such procedure. In Baltimore, Davidson said, ninety per cent of the criminal cases were tried before a judge and without a jury. In 1925 all but 177 of 1500 cases were tried without a jury.

Two criminal courts of Baltimore, a city of 800,000, are able to handle all the criminal cases. The record of trials for the year shows 2,722 convictions and 610 acquittals.

Davidson would shorten the method of appeal in civil and criminal cases. In contested jury cases he would have three judges sit and let the appeal lie directly to the Supreme Court. The higher court would write no opinion but merely affirm or remand the case.

Davidson would also create a judicial council, such as has been adopted in Kansas, North Carolina, Massachusetts, Ohio and the Dakotas. The judicial council in these states made a survey of the cases in the different courts and conditions of dockets. The council establishes rules of practice and makes recommendations to the governor.

The council in the state of Kansas is made up of three judges and four lawyers, to each is elected by the legislature. Davidson would make the chairman of the council a Minister of Justice, who would be elected, and would be a sort of business manager for the judiciary.

"We need one trial and one review," said Davidson.

This would mean the doing away with the courts of civil appeals. Davidson said all his recommendations in courts, which in criminal cases are beneficial only to the criminal, "Society itself," he said, "has a deeper and more personal interest. It is called for protection from the criminal. It demands that every possible element of chance be eliminated from our court trials; that the arm of justice be swift and powerful, giving the offender with fear and in doing the peaceful, honest man with a whole new respect for the majesty of the law."

Texas Judge, Davidson said, write on many opinions. Texas judges in the last five years, he said, have written more legal volumes than the judges of the combined states of New York, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Massachusetts. While the Northwestern Reporter has filled twenty-two volumes of opinions during the last five years the Southern Reporter, with forty-six per cent of the cases from Texas, has filled fifty-five volumes.

MORGAN CITY PHYSICIAN IS ALLEGED TO HAVE CONFESSED INSTIGATING MAN'S MURDER

By Associated Press.

Franklin, La., July 8.—Dr. Thomas E. Dreher, Morgan City physician today confessed to Sheriff Charles Peot that James J. Lehoucq had been murdered at his instigation as Lehoucq rowed on Lake Palourde Friday night.

Dr. Dreher, Sheriff Peot said, joined Mrs. Lehoucq in charging James Lehoucq, fisherman and trapper, with the actual commission of the crime.

Previously Mrs. Lehoucq had told Sheriff Peot that she witnessed the killing of her husband by Beadle on Lake Palourde, but that after she saw her husband collapse in his skiff, she turned the boat in which she was rowing about and returned home, saying nothing of the affair for fear it might be believed that she had participated in the crime.

Three Boats on Lake. Three boats were on Lake Palourde on the night of the crime, Dr. Dreher said, asserting that Lehoucq had gone for a boat each followed by Mrs. Lehoucq who was in another boat, alone. The third skiff was occupied by himself and Beadle, he said.

Dr. Dreher said that while he and Beadle talked, the white skiff to within a few feet of the one occupied by Lehoucq, which Beadle had his shotgun across the gunwale of the boat, and the into Lehoucq's side.

The boat containing the body was towed to deep water, he said, where a heavy iron was fastened to it and it was pushed overboard. Later Dr. Dreher said he and Beadle washed away the blood stains and returned to shore.

Dr. Dreher told Sheriff Peot that Mrs. Lehoucq had written him on the day before the murder that she and her husband would take a ride on the lake on the night of the murder. She said, urged him to be there.

Sheriff Peot said that Mrs. Lehoucq admitted writing to Dr. Dreher but did not admit knowing that he was coming to kill her husband and denied luring Lehoucq on the lake for that purpose.

Gossip generally for some time had connected the sheriff with Mrs. Lehoucq, the sheriff said.

Mrs. Lehoucq is the mother of four children. Dr. Dreher is the father of three.

By Associated Press. Franklin, La., July 8.—A special term of court will be called soon to try Mrs. Ida Lehoucq Dr. Thomas E. Dreher, and James Beadle, for the alleged murder of Mrs. Lehoucq's husband, James Lehoucq, District Attorney Emile Vuillemot, announced today.

Other reports will be made on the first day of November, December, January, March, and May, as of the first day of the preceding month. It is planned to make a record of the grade and staple length of the cotton as it is ginned.

The work will be under the general direction of Dr. R. Youngblood, leader of research projects of the Division of Cotton Marketing, W. B. Lanham, formerly connected with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, has been appointed Agricultural Economist immediately in charge of the grade and staple reports and report in the bureau's cotton marketing division.

Mr. Lanham left Washington to go to Atlanta, Georgia, where an office of the bureau is to be established on July 1 for carrying on the work in the Atlanta area. A similar office is to be established at Dallas, Texas, about August 1. Arrangements are to be made with a large number of ginner in Georgia and in the dry land cotton-growing areas of Southwest Oklahoma and the Panhandle of Texas. Samples will be obtained representative of the growth of the cotton of these areas. These will form the basis of the bureau's monthly reports.

Grades and Staple Lengths. The reports will carry information on the commercial grades and staple lengths only, but an additional study will also be made of other factors such as color, leaf, trash and other elements of character in cotton lint. Specialists in cotton classing of the Government are to be assigned to this work. The Atlanta classification office is to be in charge of Porter I. Barnes, formerly of Georgia who is thoroughly familiar with cotton production in the Atlanta area. The personnel of the Dallas office will be announced soon.

TEXAS TO PRODUCE EIGHTEEN MILLION BUSHEL OF WHEAT

WHEAT HARVESTING IN PAN-HANDLE ABOUT EIGHTY-
FIVE PCT. COMPLETE

By Associated Press.

Dallas, Texas, July 11.—Texas will produce more than 18,000,000 bushels of wheat this season and the Oklahoma turnout will be around 40,000,000 bushels, R. C. Andrews of Dallas, district manager of the American Railway Association, estimates.

At the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 51,212,040 bushels of wheat had been received at Galveston and 47,365,138 bushels had been exported, as compared to the 35,429,900 bushels received and 33,628,821 bushels exported during 1924, last heavy production year.

Mr. Andrews' reports showed: One million and sixty thousand bushels of wheat still are in the elevators there.

Grain situation in other ports: wheat (bushels) received since July 1, 1926: amount exported, and amount on hand respectively: Houston, 5,451,300, 3,782,413, 308,486 (none in 1925 or 1926); Texas City, 2,091,150, 2,094,029, none (previous year's figures unavailable); Port Arthur, 662,301, 634,170, 33,604. During same period in 1924, 3,130,993, 3,144,374, 23,549.

"Wheat harvesting in the Pan-handle was reported about 85 percent completed and 'exports are reaching heavy proportions.'"

"It is reported" the statement continued, "that a large percentage of interior available storage either has been filled up or contracted for, indicating a disposition by producers and dealers to hold for higher prices."

"Now that the heavy movement is on—and will continue for at least 60 days—it is important that grain cars be released promptly and returned immediately to production territory."

Raise Cider Apples

By Associated Press.

Worcester, En., July 11.—Farmers in western England are going back to growing cider-apples.

The cider orchards contain a large proportion of rapidly decaying trees and in view of the depressed state of agriculture, it is planned to weed out the old trees and replant with new wood which has been maturing in a "nursery" started some years ago.

Between 80,000 and 100,000 trees are being distributed throughout the "cider" country.

COMPREHENSIVE REPORT ON AGRICULTURAL AND DAIRYING ACTIVITIES OF STATE HOME

By D. B. PITTS
Director of Vocational Agriculture
At State Orphan's Home

Something like two months ago I was interviewed by a newspaper reporter relative to the agriculture department of this institution. Just at that particular time I was unable to give offhand a full and complete report of cost and production for the year 1926. It will perhaps be of interest to your readers at this time to have an itemized statement of our cost and production, also something of our methods and plans of procedure.

The home is located on a 398 acre tract of land, of which about 198 acres are in cultivation. The remainder is occupied by buildings, the campus and pasture. We are following as near as possible the program of the Texas Safe Farming Association. We sell everything we produce to the Home with the exception of cotton. As much of that as is used as is needed for making mattresses, the rest is sold on the market. We produce as much feed and food as possible.

The hogs are fed on the swill from the kitchens and refuse from the garden which would otherwise be a complete loss.

The boys who take vocational agriculture work in school keep an accurate record of the number of hours put in on their supervised practice work, but no labor record is kept of the rest of the farm work, as the boys' work more or less in shifts of various intervals. It would be almost impossible to make an estimate of labor with any degree of accuracy.

There are no charges against the dairy herd for pasturage, because it would be difficult to estimate the value of the pasture at the different stages of the year and besides it would be like taking money out of one pocket and putting it in another to give the farm credit for producing the pasture and the dairy herd for consuming it.

The following is our report for the year beginning Sept. 1, 1925 and ending Aug. 31, 1926.

HUBBARD MAN HAD NARROW ESCAPE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Hubbard, Texas, July 11.—Gene McDaniel had a narrow escape from serious injuries Tuesday night when his automobile turned turtle on the highway between Hubbard and Dawson, smashing the top, windshield and wheels. He had turned his head from the road for a moment to replace his coat which had slipped from the seat, and as he looked ahead, he found that he was about to run into a donkey cart driven by two boys. To avert a collision, he took the ditch and made the descent successfully but his momentum was so great that could not stop the car and in trying to make the grade after passing the cart, the car turned over twice. The car was badly wrecked but he was unhurt.

WORK PROGRESSING ON RAISING DUMP TRINITY RIVER ROAD

Work is going ahead on raising the dump across the Trinity bottom beyond Kerens and eventually the Highway department will have a serious problem with the road bed with trestle which will assure passage under all except extreme high water conditions. E. R. Greenhill, highway superintendent, explained at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday morning.

The Trinity river bottom has been for years one of the worst road stretches in Navarro county. For weeks at a time during the past year traffic to East Texas has been impossible on this route and at other times the use of a private tramway was necessary.

A Remarkable Faith

The public has shown, by its response to HENRY FORD'S announcement of a NEW FORD CAR, its FAITH in the genius of the man who satisfied transportation needs for 23 years. During 18 years of that time 15 million MODEL T FORD CARS were built—An average yearly production of over 832,000 cars and trucks.

While the year 1926 was not a good automobile year generally, it was a very satisfactory year for the Ford factory—Ford production for 1926 running 46 per cent of all cars built in the United States.

Fords domestic and foreign output for 1926 was 1,629,000 units.

COTTON ROOT ROT BEGINNING TO MAKE APPEARANCE AGAIN

MUCH ATTENTION BEING GIVEN TO EFFORTS TO CONTROL THIS DISEASE

Cotton root rot, which played havoc with many fields last season in Texas and resulted in a loss to growers running into the millions of dollars, is beginning to show up in a damaging way in the central black land belt this year, according to H. E. Rea of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station work who was in Corsicana Friday.

Texas experimental agencies are giving much attention to a study of control and elimination measures of this disease. Mr. Rea explained in discussing the problem at the Chamber of Commerce. While here Mr. Rea took several soil samples and made a brief survey of the Navarro county situation. This was a follow up visit to one made here a month ago by Dr. J. J. Tabenhuis and Mr. Rea to get field data.

With the co-operation of Henry Gentry, county agent, the experimental agencies are using some of Navarro county plots for test methods. The L. I. Griffin farm at Blooming Grove has been selected for an application of sulphur to the soil on July 18. This sulphur application is to test the effect that certain low lime content can have on the acid soil with the belief that acid soil is inimical to root rot growth. This is only one of many lines of experimentation.

Within the past few days, root rot is beginning to be noticed in Navarro county but the extent of the spread cannot yet be determined, said County Agent Gentry. Provision for a more extensive study of the root rot problem was made by the state legislature, following a state-wide conference held in Temple last year at which Navarro county was represented by Mr. Gentry and Roy Christian of the Chamber of Commerce.

LEADING FARMER WESTERN NAVARRO BURIED WEDNESDAY

Jesse H. Sawyer died at his home at Rodney Monday, July 4, at 11:45 o'clock p. m., after an illness of several months. Everything that skilled physicians and loved ones and friends could do to prolong life was done, but to no avail, as death claimed him. It had been known for several weeks by those familiar with his condition that he must soon pass away. Uncle Jesse, as he was familiarly known, was a leader in his community, always for the higher and nobler things of life, as well as decidedly against wrong or anything that he thought might lead to wrong. He gave due consideration to any question, and while he always held himself open to conviction he formed his beliefs and was true to them. He was friendly and always jovial with his fellowman and possessed the friendship and admiration of many people throughout this section. Uncle Jesse has lived such a life that causes his passing away to not only be keenly felt in the family circle, but by this entire vicinity as well.

The funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Rodney church, conducted by Rev. G. W. Bounds of Wortham and Rev. T. G. Story of this place, after which burial took place in the Beard Tree cemetery.

J. H. (Uncle Jesse) Sawyer was born in Dorchester, Ill., in the year 1858. In 1876 he was married to Miss Fannie Wayne of Dorchester. This wife died in 1899 and he was later married to Miss Mary McGilvary also of Dorchester. To this first union seven children were born, but not any to the second union.

At the age of 16 years he joined the Christian Church, but later joined the Methodist, in which faith he has lived for the past 35 years. He was a loyal, active church worker until the end. In about 1890 he came to Texas bringing his family and settling near Rodney where he has since resided.

He is survived by his wife; 3 daughters: Mrs. D. C. Brewster, and Mrs. H. A. Wilder of Paducah, Mrs. I. H. Jordan of Rodney; 4 sons, S. W. Sawyer of Beaumont, W. A. Sawyer of Cooleidge, J. B. Sawyer of Dawson and M. O. Sawyer of Rodney; 1 sister, Mrs. Lillie A. Sawyer of Rochester, Ill.; a number of grandchildren and many other relatives and friends.—Dawson Herald.

REVIVAL MEETING AT MAX AVENUE IS COMPLETE SUCCESS

SEVERAL ADDITIONS TO CHURCH IN SERIES SERVICES JUST CLOSED

The closing meeting of the Max Avenue revival was held Sunday evening, with the largest number present that attended any of the meetings. The service Sunday evening was designated as family night. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon won the blue ribbon offered to the couple that had the largest number of their family present. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Martin received the ribbon for having the largest number of children present.

Rev. P. H. Gates spoke on the subject of "Home Religion," using for his text Joshua 24:15, "But as for me and my house, we will serve Jehovah."

"This evening has been designated as family night and I want to speak on the relation of the home to God and its part in the life of a nation," the minister said. "The government is built on the life of the home, not upon real estate, gold, silver, or anything else. A man, who was in Washington, looking at the wonderful buildings that are the pride of the nation, said that these were the things that made our nation the great one that it is today. Later on, as he was visiting in a home that had family prayer each evening, at the conclusion of his visit, he declared that homes like that were the reason for America's greatness today. It was said in the early days of the Methodist church that wherever you found a Methodist family, there was also a family altar. Today, 6 per cent of the Methodist homes have family prayer. The trouble with our homes and government today is found in the fact people who are professed Christians are not in communion with God," Rev. Mr. Gates declared.

Real Homes Needed. "What we need today, brethren, is real homes, homes in which the parents exercise their authority instead of allowing the children to do as they please. The world is crying for men and women to stand four square and teach their children as they should be taught. If we could only say as Joshua said, 'For me and my house, we will serve Jehovah,' in spite of what the world does and says about it, I can't see how people can allow their children to go through this life and not lead them to Jesus Christ. Your children will cry out against you at the wants you to be. If you have failed to lead them to God," he declared.

"You are going to make that choice now; you cannot say some other time now. No one can make the decision for you, you must make it yourself. Parents, you are the leaders in the home. God help you to make the decision the right way and show them the way to Christ. Whatever you sow in that child's life, that you shall reap in the future. May God help you to say as Joshua said, 'In order that America can be better as a Christian nation, America can be no better than its homes, the church no better than its members or children better than their parents. I have three boys and I will consider myself a failure if I do not make three better men than I am or ever dared to be. America needs men today that will stand for what they know to be right. We must lift the standards of morality and religion or we will land on the rocks,' the minister declared.

Parents Should Show the Way. Rev. Mr. Gates said in conclusion: "Do not ask more of your children than you are willing to do yourself. Decide tonight to follow Christ and show your children the way. God is drawing the line tonight and saying, 'He who is on the Lord's side, take up your cross and follow me or let him stand aside and be branded as an enemy of the church.' Decide now, turn your back on sin; come to Christ and let him help you to be the father or mother that He wants you to be. If you have a son or daughter you owe it to them to be followers of Christ and so train them that they will not depart from their early training later on. Will you not accept Christ tonight and show your children the way?"

In response to the invitation offered at the end of the sermon, two decided to become Christians, bringing the total of conversions to seven. Three were received into the church Sunday evening. The meeting has done great good in not only bringing in the unsaved ones but also in aiding the church members to live better Christian lives.

COURT DELAYS SCORED BY PRESIDENT OF TEXAS BAR ASSOCIATION AT STATE MEET

By Associated Press. Houston, Texas, July 11.—Industry cannot afford to go to court in this age of legal delays if the litigation involves a question on which its business policy depends. Atty. T. Whit Davidson, of Dallas, president of the Texas Bar Association, told that organization at its state meeting here.

"Industry must either pay the price of peace to its adversary or face disaster while waiting for justice," said Mr. Davidson in explaining some of the law's delays. He told his fellow lawyers that the responsibility for the remedy lies with them.

"I tell you, gentlemen of the bar," he declared, "it is up to you to give the people a legal but rational, sane and business-like administration of justice. You need not be surprised when the incompetent undertake, with haphazard results, that which the more competent have neglected or refused."

"You fool yourselves when you say that our courts are able to satisfactorily or even reasonably afford proper protection to either person or property. I could cite you to a case where a tenant breached the terms of a lease for a brick building. Instead of installing a candy and confectionery store as he had agreed, he opened up with fish and 'hot-dogs.' The landlord exercised his right of re-entry under the contract but before he could get possession through the courts the lease had practically expired by its own terms."

Vigilantes Arise "Not only are there delays seen and known by jurist and statesman, but they are known to the masses. You hear it upon the streets,—you see it in the press. You hear it echoed in the howl of the mob. You do not have to remind me that so recently as four years since a secret (hooded) political 'law and order society' almost overwhelmed our country. The State house and court house were its special objects of attack. Hundreds of thousands of high class American citizens were bound under 'the inflexible bond' to an emperor. With what choice piece of argument were its adherents won? In what fertile soil were the seeds sown to have brought forth such a harvest? Under flaming cross sounded the slogan: 'The arms of the law are too short. There are too many crimes which the courts don't reach. The vigilantes said: 'We will do it in short order, where only 100 per cent Americans will participate, and where lawyers cannot interfere.'"

"What was it all about? Much of it was the protest of an unthinking public speaking in the language of the mob against the delays of the laws. Those who wrote the rules of procedure and invoked the laws delay had sown the seed. The Vox Populi were about to help us to reap a whirlwind. Like the blind Sampson, it was about to pull the pillars of destruction upon the heads of friend and foe alike."

Not Peculiar to Texas "The delays of the law are not peculiar to Texas. It is found to a greater or less degree in all the States,—in the North and in the South and in the West and in the East."

The Judicial Council of Massachusetts caused a survey to be made and found by its tabulated report of February 13th, 1925, that Essex County was 3 years, 7 months behind; Lawrence, 3 years, 2 months; Fall River, 3 years, 5 months; and in New Bedford it was 3 years, 9 months from the filing of the suit before a trial could be had by jury. These facts are not from an alarmist but are compiled under the direction of the judicial council, a select body of jurists and lawyers appointed by the Chief Justice and Governor of Massachusetts.

"If the litigants of New Bedford must wait three years and nine months for a trial he must wait for a period of from five to seven years before his case is finally passed upon by the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, and if it should be reversed he is back and out of the hands of a receiver."

Law Beautiful Science "The practice of law is the most beautiful of all the sciences,—the science of administering justice among men. The very nature of their labors should bring members of the bar to an exalted station of honor. The lawyer, though, is a man being. He, too, likes the popular acclaim and the laurels of victory. Success! Success at any price is not a triumph of justice, but is a triumph of the advocate's skill or ability to manipulate his cause to a successful finish. His future depends upon success, and success he must have, in fairness, of the lawyer himself, our methods of practice could well be changed. To many a lawyer, and in the eyes of the public in general, victory and victory only spells success. To the judge, on the contrary, every righteous decision rendered by him is a success. As our English forebears have already done, we, too, must take some of the responsibility away from counsel and impose more upon the court."

Society, itself, has yet a deeper and more persuasive interest. It is calling for protection from the criminal. It demands that every possible element of chance be eliminated from our court trials; that the arm of justice be swift and powerful, filling the offender with fear and inspiring the peaceful, honest man with a wholesome respect for the majesty of the law."

DEATH OF IRISH STATESMAN POSTPONES THREATENED ROW IN TRIPARTITE NAVAL MEET

By Associated Press.
London, July 11.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Minister today told the House of Commons that he did not by any means abandon hope that the present conversations at the tripartite naval conference at Geneva might yet lead to a sensible relief of the burden that would otherwise fall on the three peoples concerned.

His statement was made during a debate on foreign affairs in which he asserted that there was nothing secret about British foreign policy and that there were no engagements nor understandings not known to the House.

Austen declared that the British proposals, if adopted, would lead to a reduction in expenditure of 50,000,000 pounds than 40,000,000.

It was unthinkable, he declared, that Great Britain should enter into a new race with the United States in naval armaments.

By Associated Press.
Geneva, Switzerland, July 11.—What was regarded as a significant change in the British attitude toward the cruiser problem was evident this afternoon when it was announced in authoritative British circles that if Great Britain and the United States could agree to limit the number of 10,000 ton cruisers to about ten, Great Britain would be prepared to accept the American maximum total tonnage figures of 40,000 tons.

Geneva, July 11.—The tragic death of the Irish statesman Kevin O'Hig-Corsicana Monday.

gins yesterday has by some strange destiny of events served to prevent any immediate collapse of the tripartite naval conference.

Out of respect to the memory of Mr. O'Higgins, who was present at Geneva only last week as the representative at the conference of the Irish Free State, the delegates today decided to postpone indefinitely the plenary public session which had been requested by W. C. Bridgeman, head of the British delegation.

Mr. Bridgeman had asked for the meeting in order to give the British delegation an opportunity to restate its position on the cruiser problem, to clear up what he called misunderstandings and to ask a series of questions of the American delegation.

Today's projected session had been considered potentially filled with danger. The American delegation did not desire it because it believed that little good could be achieved by a public debate of this nature. The Americans were ready, however, to answer any of the questions which the British might propound and might even have asked a few questions themselves.

It is understood that the Japanese, like the Americans, looked with some apprehension upon the projected session because of the risk that things would be said which might provoke the "blow up" of the conference.

MAGNOLIA TRINITY SAND TEST PLUGGED CASING BE REMOVED

The last scene in the history of the Magnolia McPherson 1, Trinity sand test at Rice was enacted Monday when the well was plugged and then cement poured into the hole to cut off the flow of water. The casing in the well will be shut and removed. This well was drilled to 4125 feet but no oil was found in paying quantities. An oil-soaked sand was found but mineral water was the result of setting casing and then drilling in. It is thought that the sand became soaked when a large quantity of crude was poured in the hole to lubricate a string of tools that were stuck at about 4100 feet.

A test of the sand encountered in the Southern Pine A-2 in the Cherokee region showed water and the well will be drilled deeper. The Southern Pine B-1 is still drilling. The crew on the Earl and Ragsdale is still engaged in coring, trying to find out the source of the oil which is coming into the hole. The Reynolds Mortgage Company test is still engaged in fishing for tools twisted off in the hole. Oil is being poured into the hole to loosen the tools so that they may be pulled out.

GENERAL DECLINE IN PRODUCTION OF OIL IN THIS AREA

A general decline in production marked all the fields in the East Central Texas division during the month of June. Powell continued to lead the group with 487,000 barrels, but this is the first month that the field has fallen under a half million barrels. The total for the field still runs just above the million barrel mark for the month. The production of the field with the daily average:

By Associated Press.
Washington, July 11.—Prohibition administrators who gathered here from all parts of the country, were told today by Seymour Lowman, who, as assistant secretary of the treasury, is to be their new chief, that the responsibility for dry law enforcement was squarely upon their shoulders, and that he wanted a business-like, efficient carrying out of their work.

Lowman, who will take over the position to be vacated by Lincoln C. Andrews on August 1, said he would encourage no policy except that of strict law enforcement. The meeting, which will last through Thursday, was called for discussion of a number of problems, including the reorganization of the prohibition bureau on a civil service basis, diversion of industrial alcohol, smuggling and coordination of the coast guard, customs and prohibition service in suppressing traffic in illicit liquor. Representatives of national organizations of concern with alcohol in their business will be heard. The Department of Justice and the Civil Service Commission will take part in the discussion.

EVIDENCE SOUGHT IN INDIANA STATE SCANDAL WITHHELD

By Associated Press.
Indianapolis, July 11.—William H. Remy, Marion county prosecutor, today called upon Lloyd O. Hill, attorney for D. C. Stephenson, to deliver to the prosecutor certain alleged documentary evidences which is supposed to substantiate Stephenson's charges of political corruption in Indiana.

Instead, however, according to a copyrighted article in the Indianapolis Times, Attorney Hill turned over to the Times a check drawn on D. C. Stephenson in favor of Ed Jackson for $2,500. The check, from the First National Bank of Columbus, Ohio, is dated September 12, 1923. Jackson was at that time secretary of state and the check is endorsed "Ed Jackson."

Accompanying the check when it was delivered by Hill to Thomas H. Adams, Vincennes, Ind., publisher, and Boyd Gurley, editor of the Times, was a note which declared that the check was the first one-fourth of ten thousand dollars given Jackson personally for private expense. The primary at which Jackson was nominated for governor, was in May, 1924.

KIMES TAKEN FROM PENITENTIARY FOR FORMAL SENTENCING

By Associated Press.
Sallisaw, Okla., July 11.—Matthew Kimes, Oklahoma bank bandit today was sentenced to life imprisonment for the killing last summer, Perry Chuculate, deputy sheriff.

The youthful bandit, heavily guarded was brought this morning from the state penitentiary at McAlester to receive formal sentence. It was following his conviction and before formal sentence had been passed that he escaped last fall from the Sequoyah county jail.

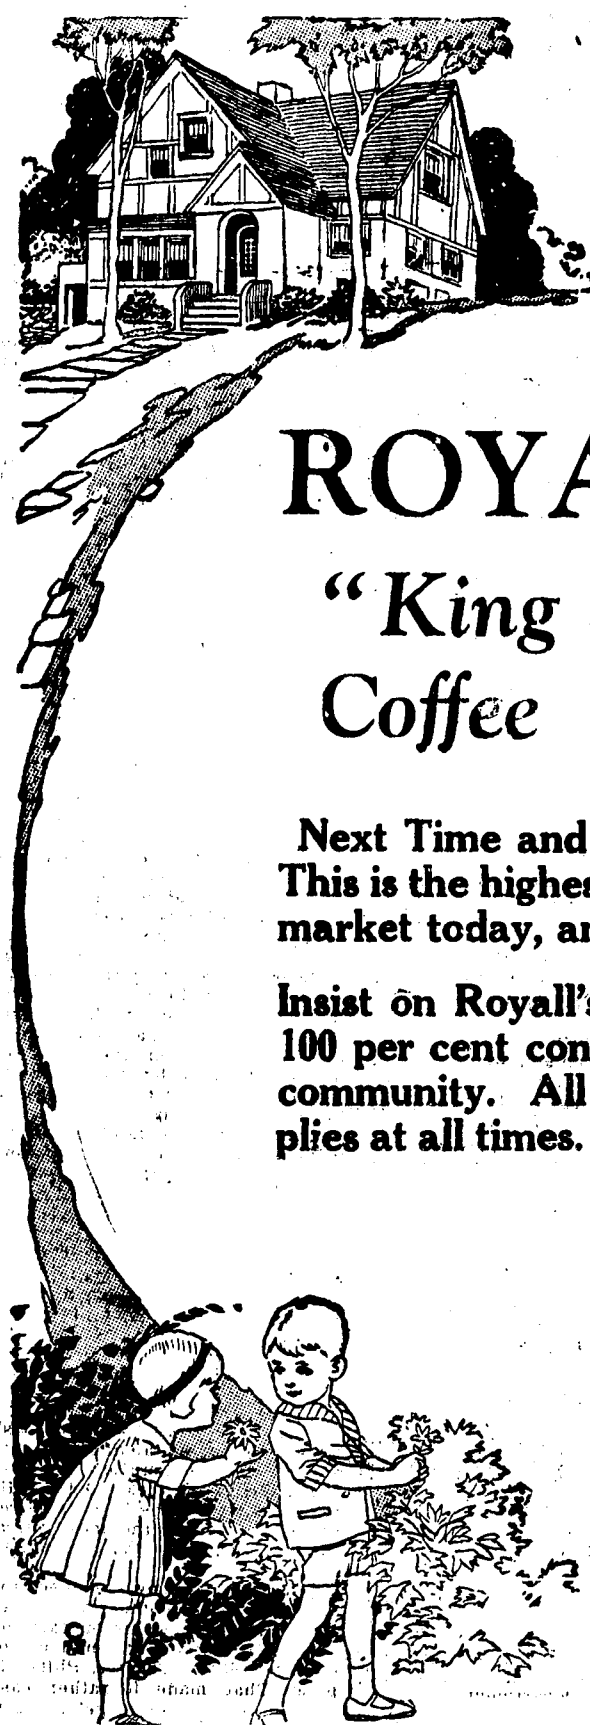

After his escape and up until his capture month ago in Arizona his name had been mentioned in connection with numerous bank robberies.

Faces Another Murder Charge.
Kimes faces trial also on a charge of murder committed at the time of the robbery of two banks in Beggs, not long before he was captured.

Immediately upon the pronouncement of sentence Kimes was taken on his return drive to the state penitentiary. Kimes was heavily handcuffed and a chain attached to the handcuffs was locked around the waist of James A. Brown of the state bureau of criminal identification.

Life imprisonment was given the bandit after every move of the defense attorneys failed. The defense then filed a supplementary objection to sentence of life imprisonment alleging sentence should be only 35 years because Kimes was first convicted of manslaughter and the penalty fixed at 35 years. Kimes' counsel contended he could not be convicted for murder following a conviction for manslaughter.

By Associated Press.
Sallisaw, Okla., July 11.—Matthew Kimes, twice convicted of slaying Deputy Sheriff Perry Chuculate, was brought here today from the state penitentiary for formal sentencing. An effort is to be made by the defense during the day to have the 39-year sentence for murder set aside and the 35-year sentence on the manslaughter charge, the verdict in the first trial, substituted.

TWO ARRESTS MADE RESULT STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT FRAUDS; ANOTHER IS SOUGHT

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, July 8.—Travis county officers were searching today for the third person of three named in 11 indictments late yesterday by a special grand jury, charging forgery, theft and diversion of state funds, in connection with State Highway department speculations said to run between $6,000 and $8,000.

S. C. Tompkins, former highway division chief clerk and P. Joschke, to whom highway checks were issued, were under $1,500 bond each today, charged with definite transactions involving about $1,300. They were arrested soon after the indictments were returned.

Tompkins was chief clerk under former Division Engineer L. J. Nachtrab during the Ferguson administration and is said to have been in business recently with Nachtrab in Houston. Joschke is alleged to have been carried on the highway department pay roll last year as an operator of several trucks without actually performing the service paid for. Assistant Attorney General Gal-lowsay Calhoun said that investigation of alleged forgeries of four state highway warrants totaling $500 uncovered the Tompkins and Joschke arrests and revealed evidence pointing to "padded pay rolls" involving between $6,000 and $8,000.

CONTINUANCE AGAIN ASKED IN CASE OF YOUNG WOMAN CHARGED BANK ROBBERY

By Associated Press.
San Marcos, Texas, July 11.—Efforts of attorneys for Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers to obtain a continuance in her trial for robbery of the Buda, Texas, bank were partially successful this morning and court recessed until this afternoon to enable her attorneys to prepare a written motion for a continuance.

Robert Coker, Mrs. Rogers' attorney said that a continuance was sought on the grounds that Dr. C. W. Ramsdell, in whose office the girl worked at the time of the robbery, is now in New York en route to Europe. Coker said that his testimony was important as he was expected to testify as to the defendant's state of mind at the time of the robbery. Coker indicated that Mrs. Rogers would plead temporary insanity as a defense.

Mrs. Rogers was arrested in Austin a few hours after a young girl had held up the bank at the point of a gun and obtained $1,000. Her arrest brought to light a secret marriage with Otis Rogers, a young Amarillo attorney, who rushed to Austin to defend her. "Pneumonia" followed by lung affliction overtook

SETTLEMENT OF TWO SUITS FOR LIBEL AND DAMAGE SEEM NEAR

By Associated Press.
New York, July 11.—Settlement of two libel suits for damages aggregating $1,100,000 against Henry Ford was seen as a possibility today following the motor manufacturer's promise to discontinue attacks on Jews in his Dearborn Independent.

Aaron Sapir, Chicago attorney and plaintiff in a $1,000,000 suit against Ford, said negotiations for settlement of the suit were under way, while Louis Marshall, counsel for Herman Bernstein, New York, author and editor, plaintiff in another suit, said representatives of Ford had asked him "what could be done to put an end to these conditions."

The New York Herald-Tribune, however, said it had learned on good authority that neither Mr. Bernstein nor Samuel Untermyer, associated with Mr. Marshall as counsel in the suit, was ready to withdraw the action.

Mr. Bernstein at Sheffield, Mass., said: "Henry Ford's statement speaks for itself. I have no comment to make at this time."

Some Dissent Heard:
Amid the general acclaim by prominent Jews that other than greeted Ford's retraction there was some dissent, entering mainly on speculation by newspapers at to the motives that prompted the statement. Some New York newspapers connected the statement with possible presidential aspirations by Ford or business contingencies.

The Herald-Tribune says Earl J. Davis of Detroit, formerly an assistant United States attorney general, was in Washington several weeks ago seeking the advice of politicians, including a New York Jew, who is a representative in Congress, as to means of saving Mr. Ford from going on the witness stand in the Sapir case.

The case had been declared a mistrial, and Mr. Davis is said to have told the New York representative that Ford was perturbed over the prospect of the retrial next September, and that the manufacturer and his family were anxious to end the controversies which the articles had engendered.

The Herald-Tribune says Mr. Davis was advised to consult some prominent member of New York Jewry.

Statement Issued.
An account of the negotiations that preceded the issuance of the Ford statement was given in a statement issued at Saranac Lake by Mr. Marshall through the Jewish Telegraph agency.

Mr. Marshall said he had told Earl J. Davis and Joseph Palma of New York, "both friends of Henry Ford," that "a complete retraction of all the false charges made, an apology, a discontinuance of the attacks, and amends of the wrong" would be necessary before peace could be established.

Mr. Davis and Mr. Palma, Mr. Marshall said, "stated that Ford was satisfied that those whom he had put in charge of the Dearborn Independent had taken advantage of him by publishing a series of articles attacking the Jews, and as he had been convinced that all of the charges made against them individually and collectively were without foundation and unjust, he wished to know what could be done to put an end to these conditions."

UNITED STATES IS PASSING FROM LAW TO MEN IN POWER

By Associated Press.
French Lick, Ind., July 8.—The United States is passing from a government of law to a government of men, and a power that often approaches tyranny has been vested in the Federal government, Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland declared in an address here today before the annual meeting of the Indiana State Bar Association.

"The government is no longer the creator and protector of your individual rights, but is rapidly becoming the dictator of them," the speaker asserted.

"Today local self government furnishes the only efficient, effective, workable basis on which the diversified and changing problems in our diversified and changing land can ever be practically settled."

The American government has become the most regulatory in the Western world, outside of Russia and Italy, Governor Ritchie asserted.

He declared inspectors and spies and official regulators follow the American from the day he takes his first nourishment.

"Here he is told what he may eat, where what he may smoke and everywhere what he may drink. What he may read or write or see on the stage is prescribed, too, and not content with this, his government advises him how to hang his curtains in his home, what meat to cook for his Christmas dinner, and not two months ago the Department of Agriculture distributed throughout the country a treatise entitled 'A Pocket Essay on Kissing.'"

Governor Ritchie asserted that the "growing contempt for law" is attributable in a large measure to "this unholly zeal for more law."

Miss E. Stummer of Galveston was a visitor in Corsicana Saturday.

Mrs. G. W. Pruitt and Mrs. L. I. Griffin of Blooming Grove spent Saturday in Corsicana shopping.

DENIAL OF BREAK BETWEEN CHAMBERLIN AND LEVINE MADE

By Associated Press.
Paris, July 8.—The monoplane Columbia, with Maurice Drouhin, the French aviator, as pilot, and Charles A. Levine, as passenger, arrived at LeBourget from Croydon, England at 8:05 p. m.

By Associated Press.
Croydon Air Field, London, July 8.—The trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia, bearing Clarence Chamberlin, Charles Levine and Maurice Drouhin, arrived here at 2:09 o'clock this afternoon from Paris.

Chamberlin, who piloted the Columbia from Paris today with Drouhin and Levine as passengers, was greeted here by his mother, and there was an affecting scene as they embraced. He will remain in London until next Tuesday when he embarks on the Leviathan on which Commander Byrd and his crew also are returning to the United States.

Piloted by Drouhin, Levine left for Paris in the Columbia late this afternoon.

By Associated Press.
Croydon Air Field, London, July 8.—Charles A. Levine will be ready to hop off from Le Bourget Field, Paris, within a fortnight on his second trans-Atlantic flight, with Maurice Drouhin as pilot, he said today upon his arrival in the monoplane Columbia from Paris. He expected that the Columbia would fly in perfect mechanical order by that time, he added.

Levine denied that there was a serious dispute between him and Clarence Chamberlin, his pilot on the New York to Germany flight, as reported, but admitted that they were practically on a business basis.

Levine is returning to Paris this afternoon in the Columbia and will fly back to London with his wife tomorrow.

By Associated Press.
LeBourget, France, July 8.—Clarence D. Chamberlin, New York-to-Germany flyer, said good-bye to France today when he piloted the trans-Atlantic Bellanca monoplane Columbia, probably for the last time, into the air from the civil flying field here, headed for London.

Beside him sat Maurice Drouhin, French long distance flyer, who, if all goes well, will fly the Columbia over the Atlantic and back to Roosevelt Field, New York, some time in August.

Charles A. Levine, owner of the plane, who will accompany Drouhin in the attempt, also went along on today's hop. He had found a few inches of space, just enough to let him lie down comfortably on the gasoline tank. The start was made at 12:32 p. m.

Wives See Hop Off.
Mrs. Chamberlin and Mrs. Levine waved encouragement to their husbands and then the flyers entered another imperial airway machine to follow the Columbia to Croydon, London.

Mrs. Levine had planned to go, but decided not to at the last moment. Before starting Drouhin told the Associated Press he was most happy at the opportunity to pilot the Columbia on the return trans-Atlantic flight.

"I am delighted," he said, "Of course, I would have preferred to fly in my own plane with Lebric, my own navigator, but it would take much longer to get my machine ready than to tune up the Bellanca plane."

He said he would start some time in August, after the arrival of John Carisi, chief mechanic of the company that built the Columbia, who is bringing spare parts.

In saying his farewell to Paris, Chamberlin was reticent and seemed almost downcast that he was about to take his last flight in the plane that had carried him across the ocean to a new world's distance record.

When cameramen asked him to pose with Levine and Drouhin in front of the plane he retorted: "I am not going to make the trans-Atlantic flight; I am just going to do the dirty work." Then he grinned widely, and took his place with the others.

MANY HORSES FOR ENCAMPMENT STATE CAVALRY ON HAND

By Associated Press.
Mineral Wells, Texas, July 11.—Fifty cars of horses arrived here Saturday, July 9, for the annual encampment of the 56th Cavalry Brigade, General Jacob F. Wolters, commanding. The new permanent camp here was completed recently by the War Department.

The service troop stationed here and the 113 Cavalry with a detachment of the Adjutant General's Department from Austin, went on duty early Saturday. One thousand men will be in the camp for two weeks. They were to come in four troop trains Monday.

Early on the program of the encampment will be the dedication of Puron Hall, which will seat 1,000 persons and was a gift from Major Bob Puron of Houston.

The 129th Cavalry is composed of the 129th Cavalry, the 56th Machine Gun squadron and headquarters troops. The 113th Cavalry is a part of the 56th Brigade, but as it is located in New Mexico it will go to camp at Ft. Bliss this year. The following Texas cities are represented at the camp here: Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston, Tyler, Brenham, Waxahachie, Austin and Mineral Wells.

Governor Moody will review the brigade on July 22 with Brig. Gen. Robert L. Robertson, Texas adjutant general; Gen. John A. Huie, Commander of the 36th Division; and General Earnest Hinds, Fort Sam Houston, commander of the 8th Corps area.

Typhoid Fever.

The following information concerning typhoid fever has been given for publication by the health officer of Navarro county:

"Vacation time is here and thousands of our citizens are thinking of taking a few days' drive to see other parts of the country. On this trip you will see plenty of danger signals warning you about the danger ahead. This is fine for the tourist, and saves many lives. But there is another great danger I want to call your attention to, and that is typhoid fever. The food you eat, the water you drink may contain the typhoid germ. This might happen from being handled by a typhoid carrier. (This is a person in seeming good health who harbors typhoid germs for years, scattering them wherever they may go.) Or perhaps the common house fly may carry them on their feet from the excretions from some near-by typhoid patient."

Prevention.
Vaccination is the proper measure. It is safe and sure, and is recommended by State and National boards. As to this, consult your family physician and follow his advice. Sincerely hope you do it now, today or tomorrow, while it is fresh on your mind, and by so doing you may save yourself or some member of your family from a serious illness.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to thank all our neighbors and friends for the many acts of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our father, C. Frey. We also thank all those who sent the beautiful floral offerings.

JOHN DREW DIED IN SAN FRANCISCO SATURDAY MORNING

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, July 9.—Brief, simple services were held here today for John Drew, actor, who died early in the day after over a month's illness. Mrs. Louise Devaux, Drew's daughter, her husband, Jack Devaux, and John Barrymore, the actor's nephew, were the only persons present to hear Rev. Webster W. Jennings of St. Luke's Episcopal church preach the short sermon.

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, July 9.—John Drew, noted American actor, died here today after being confined to a hospital since May 31 with arthritis and rheumatic fever. He was 72 years old.

Mr. Drew arrived in San Francisco the latter part of May to play an engagement in "Trelawney of the Wells." Because of his physical condition, however, he was forced to cancel his appearance and was taken to a hospital.

His condition grew so serious that on June 4 John Barrymore, Drew's nephew, was called from Hollywood and he, with Drew's daughter, Mrs. Louise Devaux, came to the actor's bedside. Drew rallied several times but he invariably suffered relapses, each setting the actor lower in the scale than he had been previously.

Through all this suffering Drew was cheerful, his mind keen and he showed great interest in the flood of telegrams arriving from friends in all parts of the world. The vitality of the actor and his unwillingness to admit that he was playing his last part on the stage of life was declared by those who attended him to be the only reason he survived so long.

Coming from a family which was probably a record for continuous activity upon the stage, through three generations, hold John Drew acted his way from at inconspicuous beginning to a position as one of the outstanding figures of the theatrical world, and was regarded by many as the leading exponent of polite comedy, classical and modern.

Mr. Drew's inclination to a stage career was a heritage from his parents, both of whom were players of note. His father, also named John Drew, was an Irish comedian of great talent and ability and in the deliberation of Irish characters was unexcelled. His mother, Louisa Lane Drew, was regarded as one of the most versatile actresses on the American stage.

When John Drew reached the age of 20, his mother, who had personally directed his preparation for a stage career, was manager of the Arch Street Theatre, Philadelphia. That made it rather easy for the young man to get a start. For his debut, in 1873, he was cast as Plummer in the comedy, "Cool as a Cucumber." Then for two years he played in many small parts "without making any particular impression either with the audiences or myself," as he later explained it.

Mr. Drew's real climb to fame began when he placed himself under the management of August Belmont and made his New York debut at the Fifth Avenue Theatre as Bob Ruggles in "The Big Bonanza." In that play Fanny Davidson, a famous stage beauty, was the leading lady.

During the season of 1878-79 Mr. Drew toured the country with his brother-in-law, Maurice Barrymore, in "Diplomacy" and afterwards returned to Daly's Theatre, remaining under the management of Mr. Daly until 1892. With Ada Rehan as leading lady he played in a number of successful plays, including "The Great Unknown," "The Seced in Command," and "Love's Labor Lost." As a member of Daly's company he played engagements in London in 1884, 1886 and 1888.

While Mr. Drew had been the leading man of the Daly company for several years, his first opportunity as a star came from Charles Frohman in "The Masked Ball" in 1892. His success in that play being shared by Maude Adams. He continued under Mr. Frohman's management until 1915.

He appeared in a new play regularly each season on Broadway in several of them he toured the principal cities of the United States.

Some of the vehicles in which Mr. Drew achieved fame were "Rosemary," "A Marriage of Convenience," "The Mummy and the Humm'bird," "Jack Straw" and "A Single Man." One of his favorite characters was Petruchio in "The Taming of the Shrew."

Among the most notable of his latter day successes were "Major Pendennis," "The Gay Lord Quex" and "The Cat Bird."

John Drew was born in Philadelphia Nov. 12, 1853. He was educated in private schools and the Episcopal Academy, Philadelphia, studying at the latter institution until he was ready to make his stage debut. In 1880 he married Josephine Baker, an actress, of Philadelphia. She died in 1918. They had one daughter, Louise Drew, who gained distinction on the stage.

Mr. Drew often was characterized as the best dressed man on the stage. He was fond of society and his knowledge of it served him well in many of his roles. So often did he portray the character of one exercising the manners and characteristics of a gentleman that this stage figure came to be known to theatre-goers as a "John Drew role."

Mr. Drew's home was at East Hampton, Long Island. He was an expert tennis player, fencer and swimmer and his favorite recreations were horseback riding and fox hunting.

MISSOURIAN PLEADS FOR RETURN TO OLD PRINCIPLES OF LAW

By Associated Press.
Houston, Texas, July 9.—A plea for the return to what he termed the "old fundamentals" for a proper conception of the constitution of the United States; for a rebirth of that respect for the constitution which the fathers of the republic maintained, and preservation of these principles without which liberty is dead and government is tyranny, was made by Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, before the Texas State Bar Association today.

The Senator reviewed the conditions which led to the revolution and said the central thought and purpose when the American government was established was "to protect the individual in the enjoyment of the fullest measure of personal liberty."

"I assert that in thousands of instances men charged with the solemn duty of guarding the constitution have employed cunning and dishonest artifices to alter its plain intent and twist its language to the purpose of usurpation," he declared.

The speaker reviewed various things which come under federal jurisdiction and control. "Indeed, we have already proceeded so far that there is scarcely an activity of life from the rearing of babies to the massing of armies, which is now now in some degree subject to the surveillance of government officers, agents, spies and courts," he said.

"I hope Russia will immediately abandon the absurd idea that she can divert the great mass of workers in this country from following a constitutional path to bring about the social changes required."

SECRETARY BRITISH RAILWAYMEN SERVES NOTICE UPON RUSSIA

Carlisle, England, July 8.—J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, served notice on Russia today that it is useless to try to engineer a revolution in this country. Mr. Thomas was speaking at a conference of the National Union of Railwaymen.

"I hope Russia will immediately abandon the absurd idea that she can divert the great mass of workers in this country from following a constitutional path to bring about the social changes required."

"It is no secret that there is Russian money to subsidize their particular form of propaganda, but the mistake the Russians are making is that they are subsidizing the wrong people."

"Neither the minority movement nor communist propaganda is going to divert the great mass of workers in this country from following a constitutional path to bring about the social changes required."

INTEREST AROUSED IN FREE SWIMMING LESSONS AT NAT

The announcement that Robert Austin, experienced and expert swimmer instructor, would give instructions in the art of swimming for one hour each evening from 7:30 to 8:30, next week, beginning Monday, has aroused considerable interest among those who desire to learn to swim.

The fact that there have been a large number of drownings in Texas during the past several days, mostly as a result of bathers getting beyond their depths and being unable to swim, has caused many to make the natural reservation that they are going to learn to swim and have their children learn to swim also, and there probably will not be a better opportunity to learn to swim and take care of one's self in the water than this offered by Mr. Austin and the Natatorium management.

BLOWN FUSE CAUSED DAMAGE AND DELAY TO ELECTRIC PLANT

Trouble in structure, caused by a blown fuse on one of the power lines, cut off Corsicana's supply of electric power for about an hour at noon Saturday. The blown fuse caused the current to be over and burn out a set of insulators, which had to be replaced before the current could be turned on again.

The arcing caused considerable fireworks which was seen from offices in the State National Bank. Several rumors about explosions gained headway but officials at the sub-station said that no one was injured, and that only slight damage was done.

All available linemen were rushed to the sub-station as soon as the break occurred and the lines were restored in a short time.

Dr. R. C. Curtis was in his office at the time of the blow-out in the State National Bank and witnessed the display incident thereto. He described the pyrotechnic display as being quite vivid. Others witnessed the display and a large crowd gathered at the sub-station in a short while.

All power over the city and at other points on the Corsicana line was cut off, as well as interurban traffic stopped. The traffic of the street cars was not interrupted, the Daily Sun's linotype machines were out for the length of time the current was off and all other agencies and plants using electricity for power were at a standstill. Fans were all cut off and many sweaters in hot offices until the "juice" was turned on again.

THREE MEN ATTACK AGED MAN WHEN HE REFUSES OBEY THEM

By Associated Press.
Vernon, Texas, July 8.—Although covered by a revolver and ordered to detail the northbound "West Texas" fast Ford & Denver passenger train, J. D. Ferguson, 74-year-old townerman at the Frisco-Denver crossing here, flashed the signal for the train to come ahead and frustrated what is believed to have been a plan to hold up and rob the train here early this morning. Ferguson was immediately attacked by the three masked men who had forced entrance to his tower, and was knocked unconscious as the engine of the train neared the tower.

The men knocked at the door of the tower this morning after the headlights of the train, which is due here at 1:45, was in sight. Mr. Ferguson said this morning. One of the men called out, addressing the townerman familiarly by his initials, "J. D." Mr. Ferguson went to the door and asked the names of the men on the outside before opening the door.

He did so, a revolver was thrust through a window near by, and Mr. Ferguson was forced to open the door.

"Throw the devil or we'll kill you," one of the men said, while the other stood at the door revolver in hand.

Ferguson glanced down the track, saw the train approaching, and signalled "clear track." His assailants struck him and one of them kicked him in the chest after he fell. The watchman lost consciousness. His injuries are not serious.

The townerman regained consciousness about 15 minutes later and found that the train which he had refused to derail had left on its journey to Amarillo.

Ferguson's assailants had disappeared. The aged man, although unable to use his right arm, and suffering from pains in his chest, went to a nearby house for aid.

GOVERNOR MOODY DEFENDS REFORMS IN TEXAS COURTS

By Associated Press.
Houston, Texas, July 9.—Governor Dan Moody told the State Bar Association at its meeting here today that considerable effort had been made to hasten justice in Texas and defended the constitutional amendment which soon is to be voted on relating to the Court of Appeals and to the Supreme Court.

Governor Moody insisted that "there should be a definite program drawn up by the Bar Association looking to the betterment of jurisprudence. 'I think,' he said, 'lawyers should speak out in defense of our courts and take issue with periodicals which are making vicious attacks on our action and on Anglo-Saxon methods of law administration in Texas.'"

"The so-called breakdown of administration of justice," the governor declared, "is a myth. Steps have been taken, he said, to speed it up in Texas but not on a wholesale plan which might cloud laws that years of litigation might be necessary to clarify the laws."

As for the proposed constitutional amendment about the two Texas courts, he believed that "those who are opposing them find themselves in the position of a man who asks for a loaf but scorns the offer of a slice and prefers to remain hungry."

J. H. Slate returned to Corsicana Friday from McKinney where he has been visiting his parents for the past week.

NEW ORLEANS FAVORED IN LATEST RATE RULING MADE BY INTERSTATE COMMERCE

By Associated Press.
Washington, July 8.—A part of the rate advantage hitherto given to Galveston and other Texas ports in a contest with New Orleans was removed today by a decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission modifying former findings.

A former decision ordering railroads to give the Texas ports lower rates on petroleum and its products than applied to New Orleans, was rescinded while the area of the Southwest grain-growing states from which the Texas ports were originally given a rate advantage over New Orleans was sharply decreased by the commission.

As to a large number of commodities which constitute the bulk of Southwestern traffic moving through seaports, however, the commission affirmed its original findings that Texas ports had been unjustly treated by the railroad rates in comparison with New Orleans. Railroads participating in the traffic were ordered to make effective December 12 next new schedules incorporating the findings announced today.

Grain Rates Favor Texas.
From Oklahoma and Texas territories north of the lines of the Rock Island the differential on grain favors the Texas ports under the new (Oleum) rates and was prescribed at one cent; while from Oklahoma and Texas territory south of the Rock Island lines a differential in favor of Texas ports of two cents was ordered.

In the traffic on cotton seed and cotton seed cake the Texas ports were awarded a differential of three cents under New Orleans from Oklahoma and Texas territory north of the Rock Island Lines which differential was increased to five cents from Oklahoma and Texas territories south of that line. On backing house products the differential favoring the Texas ports was fixed at five cents from the northern territory in Oklahoma and Texas and eight cents from the southern territory.

From Southern Louisiana to the Texas ports on lumber and forest products a differential of two cents under New Orleans was given. The commission described an additional set regulation to guide the railroads further in preparing the schedule. The new rates drawn up to comply with the decision must be submitted to the commission for shall not be disturbed. In addition, approval prior to going into effect.

Petroleum Rates Remain.
In today's decision the commission finally held that so far as petroleum products are concerned the port rates in the Southwest for shall not be disturbed. In addition, approval prior to going into effect.

Fort Worth Man Decoyed From Home, Taken Out on Cleburne Road and Beaten

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Texas, July 9.—Morris Strauss, 28, employee of a supply house here, was decoyed from his home late Friday night, carried in an automobile to a place about 12 miles from here on the Cleburne road, and given a severe flogging with a rope by a gang of ten unmasked men.

Although Strauss did not identify any of his assailants and could assign no motive for the attack, police today were conducting a vigorous search for the members of the attacking party.

Mrs. Strauss said today that shortly after 11 o'clock Friday night, when she and her husband dogs and even human beings. But had just retired, the door bell rang without warning and kills thousands of the many diseases for which the flea is responsible. Fly-Tox kills fleas. Spray gently against the fur from rear of animal. Simple instructions on each bottle (blue label) for killing ALL household insects. Insist Fly-Tox. Fly-Tox is safe, harmless, fragrant, sure. Every bottle guaranteed.

and the party roared away while Mrs. Strauss shouted for help. Strauss said a hood was kept over his head which was pressed into one of the automobile cushions while the party swept through the city and toward Cleburne. When the party left him in the road, Strauss made his way back to the city where he was given medical treatment.

He was recovering at his home today.

Terrible epidemics of disease with appalling loss of life have followed the widespread distribution of the house fly, the pest of man, rats, dogs and even human beings. But had just retired, the door bell rang without warning and kills thousands of the many diseases for which the flea is responsible. Fly-Tox kills fleas. Spray gently against the fur from rear of animal. Simple instructions on each bottle (blue label) for killing ALL household insects. Insist Fly-Tox. Fly-Tox is safe, harmless, fragrant, sure. Every bottle guaranteed.

Strauss damaged a bath robe and house slippers and went to the door where he was told by a "large man" that an employee of the supply company for which he worked had been injured and household insects. Insist Fly-Tox. Fly-Tox is safe, harmless, fragrant, sure. Every bottle guaranteed.

Three men were in the front seat and three in the rear seat of the automobile in front of the house to which Strauss was led by the man, Mrs. Strauss said. When he reached the automobile, he was suddenly seized, hurled to the bottom of the car

BADLY RUN-DOWN

Kentucky Woman Had "Terrible Time" Doing Her Home Work. Strength Returned After She Took Cardui.

Shelbyville, Ky.—"Several years ago," says Mrs. Alven Jesse, of this place, "my health was very bad. I was a very nervous run-down. I was in a weak, nervous condition that I was not able to do my housework."

"I struggled to keep up, because I had to, but many a time I spent hours in bed, trying to force enough strength to go through the daily routine."

"This condition went on for some time, until I heard about Cardui, which some one told me was good for such ailments. I gave it an immediate trial, and, I am thankful to say, my improvement was rapid. I was able to do my housework with ease and comfort. I felt fine and I looked so much better."

"This spring I was not as well as I had been. I was ill in the winter with colds, which left me weak. So I sent at once to the store for Cardui and began taking it. In just a little while I was feeling much better, my strength returned and I was able to get my work done easier and with less effort."

LOW PRICED CRUDE SEVERE SETBACK TO WILDCATting HERE

With the low price of oil, and slight possibility of an advance in the near future, wildcatting has received a severe setback, and is being carried on now principally by the major companies. While there was a demand for oil, the independent operators set the pace for wildcat operations, and kept the oil fraternity on the run from one new field to the other. There is very little chance of extensive wildcatting in Texas in the near future, according to the general run of opinions of the men of this section, because of the low price of crude, and the way in which the Seminole field is holding to its high production mark.

The Byrd-Humphreys test on the Garret lease at Currie was setting a string of three-inch pipe with a packer in order to test the well again. Some of the operators on this test believe that the cement job was faulty and allowed the water to come in.

Scouts are keeping an eye on the Pandem-Bassett 1 at Kosse as it goes down. This well is down to about 5300 feet, drilling in time. Three-inch drill stem is being used on this test which is the third deepest test in this part of the country. The showing of the Steubenrauch test at Mexia is principally responsible for the interest.

The Alexander & Lyles test on the Edwards tract in the Butler dome area was reported drilling at 1850 in the time. This test was started soon after the discovery well brought in in the Cherokee field. Many geologists believe that the Butler dome is a smaller formation to the Cherokee area.

Baller was being run on the Kent-Hardy 6, Saturday following the shooting of the well at 1660 feet Friday, in an effort to increase the production of the well. The results of the shot were not known Saturday.

The Thomas J. Jones et al Little 1, wildcat test west of Corsicana, was drilling around 2055 Saturday. This well left the hard chalk at 1800 feet and left the broken chalk about 1950. The bit is now in shale. The Wild Rose Little 2, on an adjoining tract was shut down waiting for parts for a pump. This well is around 1800 feet.

Efforts to complete the Steubenrauch test at Mexia as a producer are meeting with considerable difficulty. An attempt was made recently to locate the well with cable tools but this failed, and there is some talk of attempting to straighten the casing. Many operators think this impossible. It is probable that the owners of the well will sell their gas supply and after the well has paid for itself, it is possible that other attempts will be made to make an oil well.

A core was taken in the Earl & Ragdale test in Cherokee county which offsets the Elliott & Clarke discovery well, Friday and another was being taken Saturday in an effort to locate the sand which has put about 150 feet of oil in the hole. This test is causing a slight increase in the interest in East Texas propositions.

The Kirby well, offsetting the Magnolia Summer well, was drilling Friday at 3636 in hard chalk. The Elliott & Clarke discovery well in the Carey Lake region in Cherokee county, is still on the pump and is producing about 150 barrels of oil a day, along with considerable salt water.

Rising up has been completed on the Texas Company's Schultz 1, two miles north of Saco, in Rusk county, and it is thought that the well will be spudded in during the week-end.

PRINCIPAL GEORGIA SCHOOL HELD GUILTY IN FLOGGING CASE

By Associated Press. Toccoa, Ga., July 9.—W. G. Acree, principal of the Stephens county high school, was found guilty by a Stephens county jury today of assault and battery in connection with the flogging on June 12 of Mrs. Ansley Bowers.

The school master was tried on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

Notice to the Public!

Because of the large increase in the use of checks in the transaction of business and the increased expense of handling checks, banks find that many small accounts are carried on their books at a loss.

Beginning October 1st, 1927, the Corsicana banks will make a charge of fifty cents per month, on all checking accounts with a average balance of $50.00 or less, and against which there has been five or more checks drawn during the month.

We feel that our customers will see the justice of our position and increase their balances so their accounts will be profitable to the bank, or be willing to pay for the service which the bank renders in paying their checks and keeping a record of their business transactions.

ATTORNEY GENERAL INFORMED GAMBLING BEING DONE OPENLY

By Associated Press. Houston, Texas, July 9.—"I don't know the law on pari-mutuel betting machines in Texas; I'm looking it up," Attorney General Claude Pollard said Saturday in answer to a query as to whether he had or would close the reported betting at Galveston dog races.

"The investigation is by no means closed," he added. "But I haven't ordered them closed and haven't said that I would close them. I must have been misunderstood. I will have to examine the law first."

Houston, Texas, July 9.—Galveston's galloping greyhounds who nightly chase a synthesized cotton-battling bunny around a brightly lighted track for ticket holders on various pups to win, place or show, are soon to feel the injunctive inhibition of Attorney General Claude Pollard, who announced a continuation of his campaign to eradicate open gambling in South Texas here last night.

The attorney general charged that pari-mutuel gambling is taking place openly at the Galveston dog derby and that he intends to follow his previous policy of notifying county officers of the fact. In the event these officers fail to act, Mr. Pollard declared that he would file an injunction.

Two road houses, one in Fort Bend and another in Galveston county, recently enjoined from allowing gambling on their premises are being watched by the attorney general.

"We intend to stamp out these little 'Monte Carlos' if the local authorities will not act," he declared, adding that a search was still on to find gambling equipment removed from one of these places while the injunction hearing was taking place.

A representative of Mr. Pollard's department will be present in Galveston on July 28, the attorney general said, to determine whether the elaborate gambling equipment seized recently should be destroyed.

The Texas Bar Association, in session here, has a resolution pending before its resolutions committee commending Mr. Pollard for his efforts to stamp out open gambling in South Texas.
